Gentlemen,

This fax is being sent to your office with the entire specification sheets (page 1 to 6)
as my latest amendment with regard to my above patent application replacing the previous ones.

Amendments are made as further technical requirement is needed to assure safety of the system being formerly deficient. After careful examination of your amendment instruction, I have switched certain new matters previously written in my amended document to another separate application.

Would you please send me a line by return fax upon receipt of my documents ?
Sorry for the inconvenience.

Respectfully,

Henri Duong
